

Print the picture. Prick with a prickle needle many small holes in the night sky and slightly larger holes where windows are in buildings.
Then glue the sheet to yellow tracing paper.
If you now hold the picture to the window, you will see many small stars in the night sky and light in the windows of the houses.

